Ayesha is six years old and studying in Nursery class. She has two brothers and one sister. Her father's name is Babar and he works on daily wages. Her mother's name is Sajida and she is a housewife. They don't have their own house. They live with other families. Her parents' earning is not enough to pay for the educational needs of their children, but they have a wish to educate their children.

The Agape Pakistan Charitable Foundation we partner with is helping this girl for her education using the foundation's limited resources. We need sponsors for this child to help provide the $360 needed for annual support for her education, basic health care, and Sunday school. We ask you to prayerfully consider helping this child to be a good Christian citizen of Pakistan.
